Here Are The Honors, Scholarships Won By C. H. S. Seniors

Nine Carmel High School seniors won scholarships for their first year in college amounting to $12,450. Principal Warren Edwards announced at graduation ceremonies in Sunset School on June 13. Many of the scholarships are renewable each year and represent a much larger amount if paid for four years.

Michael Raggett, salutatorian of the class of 1958, was awarded two scholarships, each the largest in monetary value. He won a Naval ROTC scholarship for any college in the United States with a value of $2,000 a year. Mike also has an appointment to the United States Naval Academy. This covers all expenses for the four years he attends Annapolis, valued by Principal Edwards at a minimum of $2,000 a year, reckoned on the basis of the cost of a year in any university, but valued by the government at $44,000. Mike was also admitted to Rice Institute in Houston, Texas, which accepts 400 students a year on a scholarship basis only. His expenses for this would have been covered by the NROTC scholarship if he had not elected to enter Annapolis.

Next highest scholarship winner was Teresa Shames whose three awards amounted to $2,600. She will choose whether to accept a California State Scholarship of $600 for any California school she wishes to attend; a $1200 scholarship at Mills College; or $800 at Reed College in Oregon.

WHAT TO DO AFTER YOU'VE READ A PAPERBACK

Paper bound mystery books, novels and westerns should never be thrown away. The Carmel Red Cross will see that your once-read copies go to the soldier patients at the U. S. Army Hospital at Ford Ord. Mrs. Donald Walker, Hospital Representative for the Carmel Chapter, asks that the books be brought to the Carmel Red Cross, Eighth and Dolores Streets, any day of the week, to be taken to the hospital.

Planners Return To 40-60 Motel Ratio, Have Tree Program

Carmel planning commissioners discussed recommendations to control motel building and a five year tree planting program in study session yesterday afternoon. Next Wednesday afternoon in regular session they will ask the city council to reinstate the abandoned multiple dwelling 6-4 ratio amendment to the interim zoning ordinance and guarantee planting of 450 trees on city property during the next five years.

The proposed zoning ordinance amendment would require 1000 square feet of site for every multiple dwelling unit, with not more than 600 square feet of this area for building, leaving 400 square feet of open space.

Commissioners were motivated to ask reinstatement of the 6-4 amendment after considering Ray Berney's plans for a new motel at the corner of Mission and Fifth Streets. They favored more space along street frontage than was shown on the plans. Discussion suggested that this could only be accomplished by reducing the number of units from 17 to 16, and the elimination of one unit would make building the motel probably economically unfeasible.

Commissioner Fred Keeble, at the end of the plan consideration, pointed out that each of the 17 units had an area of 641 square feet and if the abandoned 6-4 ratio amendment were in effect the motel might not be built as, presumably, it would not be profitable.

Commissioner Florence Josselyn then urged emergency action to prevent further motel building. "While we are trying to cope with what the people of Carmel want 60 more motels are built," she stated in reference to expressed opinions by Carmel citizens at last week's joint council-commission

Forest Theater Peace Committee Assigns Dates

The three-councilman arbitration committee, appointed by Mayor John Chitwood, to straighten out the Forest Theater date conflict between the Forest Theater Guild and the Village Players, reached a decision Tuesday afternoon.

Here it is: The Village Players may have the Forest Theater for July 18, 19, 20, and 25, 26, 27 performances with rehearsal time preceding. They plan to produce Robinson Jeffers' Cretan Woman.

They assigned the following performance dates to the Guild, which intends to present the musical Paint Your Wagon, August 22, 23, 24 and 29, 30, 31, Sept. 1. The Guild may also have the prized Labor Day Week End, Sept. 5, 6, 7 if they wish it. They are to be allowed rehearsal time starting July 21, which is the week between the two week end productions of the Village Players' Cretan Woman.

Night time rehearsal of Paint Your Wagon must end at 10:45 o'clock.

Deposit of $25 will be required for first performance, $5.00 for each performance thereafter.

Committee members, Councilmen James, Buffington, Everett May and Gunnar Norberg, held two meetings, the first to hear representatives of the two theatrical groups; the second to work out the solution.

Trustees Should Probe Cause Of Resignation

The resignation of Enid Larson is the worst news this paper has had to report in a number of years. The loss of this exceptional teacher is a serious blow.

The following letters are self-explanatory. The first will probably receive official notice by the school board at its regular meeting Tuesday night, if not at the special meeting this afternoon at 5:00 o'clock.

Carmel, California
June 14, 1958

Board of Trustees
Carmel Unified School District
Carmel, California
Gentlemen:

I wish to submit my resignation as a teacher at Carmel High School.

After much deliberation and feelings of sadness I have arrived at the point where I realize that for continued professional growth I must leave my position in the high school, since my philosophy of education and flexibility in working with students is not in harmony with that of part of the administration.

In asking to be released, I wish to express to you my sincere gratitude for the opportunities to work with the splendid young people who make up our high school community. I wish to thank you, too, for the opportunity of working under Mr. Stuart Mitchell who, as principal, gave me the encouragement and freedom to build a biology department of merit where the true spirit of scientific inquiry has existed and flourished.

I have no plans for leaving the community immediately; in this event, I would be glad to offer my services as a consultant in science to the district.

Respectfully submitted,
Enid A. Larson

June 14, 1958

Dear Wilma:

At this time I wish to express to you and the Carmel Pine Cone my sincere gratitude for making my years of work as a Biology teacher in Carmel a productive one. It is now time for me to make a change.

It was with great promise that you supported my efforts to set aside a Natural Area. This project is still near and dear to my heart. We survived the encroachment of a baseball field; the catastrophy of gully formation we turned into a most productive learning experience for a group of young biology students. Along the eastern margin, trees have now been planted on the property line. This condemns our grassland plot. When the area was set aside, there was but one house in the neighborhood now our canyon is in the midst of a rapidly growing urban area. It is still a unique jewel, but to protect it as an undisturbed area seems a dream that is vanishing. It was unique in that it contained in its 2½ small acreage, grassland, chaparral and forest association. I only trust with your continued interest, this area can be left alone.

As you list my resignation from the faculty, I only hope that you can convey to this community my great feeling of regard and affection for the wonderful young people who make up our school community. It has been an unusual opportunity to work with them. To the parents I wish to express profound gratitude also, for without their generous support we could never have built a biology department of merit at Carmel High School. My labors have been labors of love and have borne rich fruit in that the spirit of science has been established in our classroom and in the lives of so many of our young people. But this spirit of inquiry can prevail only in an atmosphere of freedom, tolerance, dissent, and critical evaluation. We have needed more flexibility for our science program. Perhaps this will come in the future.

Enid A. Larson

Enid Larson did not enter into the recent salary schedule hassle, nor did she take an interest in it. She asked only that she be given enough freedom in her work to be able to make it effective, and was allowed it until two years ago.

The outstanding things she has done in her department at Carmel High School have attracted national notice, not only in the professional journals, but in the widely-read popular magazines. But this is not important. What is important is that she has been training young people in the methods of science beyond the routine textbook level, and creating in them an enthusiasm for it. Just last week, one of her students graduated from Radcliffe magna cum laude in biology.

If there is a condition in our school system that results in the loss of a teacher of this caliber, it is the responsibility of the superintendent and the school board to rectify it before we lose our other outstanding teachers.

—Wilma Cook.

Opportunity For Nine Persons And A Stage-Struck Cat

The Golden Bough Circle Theatre has put out a call for actors and backstages workers to participate in its next production. The play is Years Ago, a comedy by the actress Ruth Gordon, in which she describes her family's reaction to her decision to go on the stage. The cast calls for two mature women, three middle-aged men, three teen-aged girls, a college boy and a cat.

Years Ago will be staged by Frank Parker, drama dirctor from Principia College in Illinois. Mr. Parker will interview volunteers at 8:00 o'clock on Monday evening at the theatre on Casanova Street between Eighth and Ninth Streets in Carmel.

WILDER & JONES LEAD SECOND HALF LITTLE LEAGUE PLAY

With two week's remaining in Carmel's popular Little League, Jack Cate's Wilder & Jones squad has taken a firm hold on first place and figures to make a strong bid for the second-half title. The first-half was won by the Boys' Town crew but Manager Bill Rosenkranz is finding the going a little tough during the second round. Boys' Town won the first half with a 7-1 record which put the clothiers one game ahead of Jack Miller's San Carlos Realty team.

In this week's play, Wilder & Jones blanked San Carlos Realty, 2 to 0, Monday night as Mike Brasher threw a one-hitter at the realtors. Tuesday night's play saw Boys' Town get back on the win trail by clipping Turner & McEldowney, 8 to 2. Ronnie Jella turned in a masterful pitching performance for Boys' Town in this one, doling out five hits and striking out eight T&M swingers.

The surging Wilder & Jones team, new to the league this season, played solid ball while whitewashing last year's champs. The plumbers played errorless ball in the field to keep the San Carlos hitters off the base paths. George Thaler and Danny Aldrich scored the big runs for Wilder & Jones, Thaler getting home in the first frame and Aldrich making the circuit in the third heat. Bobby Moffatt pitched one of his best games of the season in a losing effort as he allowed only one hit and struck out seven W&J swingers. Bobby also garnered the only San Carlos hit, connecting for a booming triple in the sixth inning only to be wiped out at the plate when he tried to score on a short passed ball.

Tonight's Little League action finds Turner & McEldowney squaring off with San Carlos Realty at 6:00 o'clock. Friday night, league-leading Wilder & Jones takes on Pilot Market in a crucial tilt. A win for W&J will just about put the plumbers out of reach while a win for Pilot could put the grocerymen near the top.

CARMEL DIVIDES PAIR IN BABE RUTH LEAGUE PLAY

Carmel's entry in the Monterey Babe Ruth League enjoyed easy going against Pacific Grove last Saturday as the Grove hurlers found the plate jumping around and walked 16 Carmel batters to set the stage for a 16-6 Carmel victory. On Sunday afternoon, the local Babe Ruthers tangled with the strong Moose Lodge aggregation and were blanked, 3 to 0, as John Rubin tossed a three-hitter at Jack Miller's boys.

In the win over Pacific Grove, Carmel capitalized on a big sixth inning to score 12 runs on 2 base hits and 12 walks. Carmel batted around twice in the big sixth as four Pacific Grove pitchers took turns missing the plate. Forrest Cornwall was the top hitter for Carmel, stroking a pair of singles in three trips to the plate and scoring two runs. Dan Holman was the top run producer, crossing the dish three times to swell the Carmel run total. Forrest Cornwall started on the mound for Carmel but ran into trouble in the third heat and was replaced by Bob Little who pitched steady ball the rest of the way to get credit for the win.

Monterey's Moose Lodge showed the Carmel lads good pitching and solid batting power to blank the locals, 3 to 0, in one of the best-played games of the season. The winning lodge club made only one error in the seven-inning tilt while the Carmel gang played errorless ball. A big home run over the centerfield fence by Monterey's Tony Crivello was the blow which tipped the game toward the Moose. Jim Brown toed the slab for Carmel in this one, pitching a neat five-hitter and showing good control throughout the game. Bob Little, Frank Bucher, and Mike Cole were the only Carmel batters to hit safely, each picking up a single.

This Saturday afternoon at the Carmel High diamond, Baldwin Pianos will provide the opposition for the Carmel Babe Ruthers. Baldwin is currently tied with Moose Lodge for first place in the league and figure to give the Carmel lads a severe tussle. Phil O'Shea, Carmel High hurler, will pitch for Baldwins, with Jim Brown likely to get the call from Manager Jack Miller.

CIRCLING THE BASES

Paul Artellan's Carmel Merchant softball club has been in the throes of a slump in the Peninsula Softball League, dropping into the second division after a fast start in early-season play. The Merchants are having trouble putting together sound pitching with solid hitting. When the pitchers are stingy with the hits the hitters are impotent and vice versa. Tuesday night, Johnny DeAmaral tossed a neat three-hitter at the Texaco club only to lose the ball game in the final heat . . . Former Car-

OLD, BIG . . . AND CHEAP

This sounds fantastic, but we have a big, 4-bedroom, 2½-bath-house on almost half an acre of level land within walking distance of town, the beach, and the Mission . . . and it's priced at only $32,500. It has a huge living room, a large kitchen, a dining room, a shake roof, central heat, two fire places, and a full basement. It needs a little work—a bit of painting here, some weeding there, but on the whole, it's a terrific buy. Tiny Pianist Lends Piquancy To Adult Program Of Lindsay-Oliver Sunday

On Sunday afternoon at All Saints' Parish Hall Miss Mary Lindsay-Oliver presented a group of her vocal students—as well as a diminutive pianist-pupil, aged six—in a recital of varied interest. Richard Turner, a young baritone, opened the program with Handel's Honor and Arms, followed by Beethoven's In Questa Tomba. Careful diction and contrast in vocal dynamics were evinced in his rendition of these songs, his pianissimo in the sombre passages of the latter being particularly effective. In Mary Lindsay-Oliver's own song-composition, Up frae the glen, which was reminiscent of an old folk ballad, he projected successfully its lilting rhythm and tunefulness.

Anita Sohn's rather fragile soprano traced a delicate line in Schubert's lyric Du bist die ruh and Serenade; and later gave voice to the melodious aria from Verdi's Don Carlo. In contrast, Marjorie Pegram's mellow contralto was employed to good purpose in Donoudy's Veghissia sembrienza and the well-known and ever-favored Arias from Persian Garden by Lehmann. David Schoenbrod, baritone soloist with the Church of the Wayfarer, revealed a well-controled sonority in his performance of Pergolese's Nina; and a fine rhythmic sense was apparent in the interpretation of Kennedy-Fraser's two songs, Hebrid Seas and Mull Fisher's Love Song. Wagner's Romance from Tannhauser and The Erl King of Schubert also numbered among Mr. Schoenbrod's contributions to the program; and a Mendelssohn duet in which his attractive wife, JoAnne, participated, added a pleasing interlude.

Nancy Caravan, a young lady of tender years, who most closely resembles a walking doll, disclosed in her piano performance a budding talent which may well develop impressive proportions in time. Perched high on her chair, with feet dangling at least a foot above the pedals, she gave a clear-cut rendition of a Handel Saraband and a Rondo by Clementi. The legato line she achieved without benefit of pedal and the resoluteness of her attack were most admirable. The audience's delight in the result was made manifest.

Everybody Invited To Barney Laiolo's Open House Saturday

Saturday Barney Laiolo invites everyone to inspect the new location now occupied by his Village Radio-Electric Shop on the corner of Mission and Fourth, Carmel. Open House will be held from 4:00 to 7:00 o'clock in the new building which is one-half block away from the former Village Radio-Electric shop.

Mr. Laiolo completed months of alterations before occupying his new building. Thirty feet of floor space was added, partitions were removed, the entire north wall entrance of the structure was refaced in brick, with glass walls intersecting. A showroom for large and small scale electrical appliances was installed with separate departments for service, electrical 'pick up' supplies, radio and television, and for decorative lighting. Village Radio-Electric will introduce to Carmel (and to the area) the first "cloud" lighting display unit—a free-form ceiling installation which permits all lighting fixtures displayed to be illuminated in the display room. Black top re-surfacing out-of-doors provides the Laiolo location with private drive-in, off-street parking for twenty cars.

Barney Laiolo has been in the radio and electrical sales and service business since 1928. He operated first in San Francisco, but came to Carmel 14 years ago. He lives with his wife Fran, and three sons, Tony, 10; Chris, 7; and Linder, 6 at San Antonio and Ninth Avenue. The three boys attend River School.

In addition to the sales and services of electrical appliances, TV and radio, Barney Laiolo is an electrical contractor, and with his crew, does remodeling and installation of major electrical appliances such as laundry equipment, dish washers, garbage disposal units, and custom-style cooking tops and ovens. He is Carmel agent for a number of nationally-known brands of kitchen equipment, television and radio.

Youth Center intramural softball league starts next Thursday and for pure unadulterated fun on the softball field nothing beats this popular league. This is the closest approach to the Abalone League that Carmel has seen. Director Jack Giles does all the pitching with slow, slower, and slowest deliveries predominating. Teams are given a handicap according to class in school and astronomical basketball scores are the rule rather than the exception.

Carmel Boys Sail As Seamen On Gann's Albatros

Last week two Carmel boys, Deen Rowe and Steven Gann, both 17, embarked on a summer of adventure and travel. Classmates at Carmel High, and Pebble Beach neighbors, the boys are being taken aboard writer Ernest Gann's ship, The Albatros for a three week voyage across the Atlantic. They will serve as seamen, regular members of Captain Gann's thirteen-man crew. Deen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Rowe of Pebble Beach. Steven's father is Captain Gann. Ernest Gann's Albatros, an authentic brigantine, duplicates sailing conditions of a century ago.

The boys flew to Sea Island, New York, last Friday, then boarded the Albatros at Greenwich, Connecticut. They are now on the Atlantic. The Gann ship will touch port first in England, sailing up the Thames to London. There Captain Gann, and Steven and Deen will attend the British premiere of Twilight of the Gods, the picturization of Ernest Gann's novel, which stars Rock Hudson. Later the Albatros and its crew will visit Oslo, Stockholm, Copenhagen, Rotterdam and possibly other ports. The boys will fly home in the autumn, but first they plan to see as many European cities as possible after they help berth the Albatros at its final European port, probably Rotterdam. One of their principal objectives is the Brussels Fair.

Steven Gann has crossed both the Atlantic and the Pacific with his father on the Albatros. Deen Rowe is enjoying his first trip to Europe, although previously he served as crew member on the Albatros on California coast trips.

Mrs. Gann and Mrs. Rowe already have received a first word from their seafaring sons: the boys landed at Sea Island in one of the worst thunder and lightning storms experienced on the east coast in years. But after a party, which caused some considerable interest in Greenwich, all safely boarded the Albatros and she now is on the Atlantic.

Landscape Engineer Here, Making Plans To Cover Hill Cuts

Harold D. Bowers, chief landscape engineer for the state highway department, was here last week end to look over the freeway route over Monterey Hill as a preliminary to making his landscape plan for covering and softening the scars and cuts that will occur when the road is widened and the over-passes constructed.

He told the Pine Cone that though many big pines will have to be sacrificed and the scarring will be great, if the fills and cuts are completed at the right time of year, January or February, top soil will be spread immediately (it's in the contract) and thousands of young Monterey Pine, which will be purchased from the forestry department, will be planted immediately. Local top soil will be used from which seeds of native plants will spring up for cover and erosion control.

He commented that earlier in the morning he had ridden through Carmel Highlands. "I saw trees and toyon that I planted with my own hands. When the road went through in the thirties the people in the Highlands had a fit."

Bids will be let for the the Monterey Hill portion of the freeway in October, but by then he'll have his landscaping plans drawn up, and he'll be prepared to move in with the planting as soon as the cuts are made and covered with top soil if the season of the year is right.

"There's nothing to it. I wish all my work could be under these conditions. Next week I have a section in the San Joaquin valley — rocky soil, heat, Bermuda grass, weeds . Top soil will be brought in. Santa Barbara and Monterey are the only counties where the state uses the local top soil."

Claude Faw of Carmel, a friend of Mr. Bowers, brought him to the Pine Cone, "to reassure you," Mr. Faw said. "Those cuts will look terrible at first but you can hardly believe how quickly he'll have them covered.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

This library is about to embark upon a new venture in service. We are now a member of a film circuit sponsored by the the government of Canada. For periods of six weeks at a time, we shall have three films, 16mm size, to loan to both groups and individuals who have a projector. At the end of the six weeks period we will send this group of films on to the next library in the circuit, and we will receive another group of three films. These are color films, with sound, owned and loaned to us by the Canadian Travel Film Library. They are all on the outdoors, the sports, the festivals, the customs, and the beauties of Canada. They are beautiful films of top quality and do not contain advertising.

The only condition the service imposes upon us is that we keep a record of how many people viewed the films at each showing, and that the borrower treat them carefully and pay for any damage to the film while in his possession. This is just about what you contract to do when you borrow books from a library.

We will book these films for morning, afternoon, or evening, and the borrower is required to return the films to the library immediately after the showing except when this occurs in the evening. In such case the films are due back at the library the next morning.

We do not have a projector. There are many privately owned projectors in this area and they are for rent from local stores. In the late fall we hope to have one to loan with the films to those who do not have one but know how to operate them. The Monterey County Library has a projector which they plan to house in our library for the use of any group wishing to show films. We believe that this projector is only for group use and we can ascertain this when the projector comes to us. This too will have to be booked in advance. We will let you know when it arrives, which will probably be in November.

The first packet of films is here and will move on July 26 to the next library in the circuit, which in this case is the Monterey Public Library. The titles available now are:

Highway North—A fourteen minute color film showing the highway along British Columbia, the sports and attractions of the area against a background of awe-inspiring scenery.

Big Country, Big Fish — Also fourteen minutes and in color, this film shows fishing in Manitoba and displays the skill of a famous fisherman, Billy Cullerton.

Carnival in Quebec — A twelve minute color film showing a festival in the province of Quebec.

There is a film circuit operating in this area of California, membership in which carries a yearly fee of five hundred dollars. We are too small a community to make such membership practical, and certainly we cannot afford it from a financial standpoint. When we were offered a free membership in this small circuit, we accepted it. We hope that you use these beautiful films and that you treat them so carefully that the government of Canada will allow us to continue our membership.

40 Mph Slow Zone Is Now Extended To Carmel River Bridge

Establishment of a speed limit of 40 miles per hour on a portion of State Sign Route 1 south of Carmel was announced today by the State Department of Public Works.

The new zone starts at the Carmel River Bridge and joins the existing 40-mile zone just north of Morse Drive.

Reduction of the speed limit from 55 miles per hour was approved by State Highway Engineer G. T. McCoy following an engineering and traffic study by the Division of Highways.

The new zoning will become effective with the posting of signs, probably within a week.

They Call It A Summer Recreation Program – It's More Than That

Below is the 1958 summer recreation program for the Carmel Unified School District. It starts June 23 and continues through September 5, with the exception of some of the adult activities, which start July 7, such as typing, sewing, outdoor painting, driftwood, sculpture, pottery, sketching and painting.

First item on the schedule is swimming instruction at the High School pool. It is also first in popularity with the youngsters, and of first importance in the thinking of the adults responsible for the program: William Wakefield, recreation director; George Mosolf, in charge of swimming instruction; the Carmel Recreation Commission and the Carmel Unified School District Board. This has been the case from the early days of the recreation program, before the school district had a pool, when Mrs. Grace Howden donated the use of hers. Its long range value can be observed in a single instance. When the eighth grade held its party at the pool before the end of school, out of 108 eighth graders, there were only three who did not know how to swim.

Over 500 children participated in the swimming classes last summer. This year, with the Valley added to the school district, Bill Wakefield anticipates an even greater enrollment. The valley kids will be "bussed" into town but most of the Carmel children will climb the hill for their swimming classes or "recreational swimming." One bus will be run in town for pool passengers, for the beginners' class of six year olds or under, whose parents are unable to drive them to the pool.

How young will they take them for swimming instructions? It isn't a matter of age so much as height, Mr. Wakefield points out. "If they are tall enough to stand at the shallow end of the pool with their chin above water, we'll take them."

From the baby beginners, swimming instruction progresses up the ladder to senior life saving.

Another of the pool activities is sail boat instruction. It does not consist of yachting parties on Stillwater Cove, but largely of what to do when your craft tips over and spills you out, damply. The Red Cross provided the school district with a Toro sail boat (about eight feet long) in time for last summer's recreation program, and the first sail boat class was organized. The boat has been brought down from its moorings under the ceiling of the gardeners' supply room at the High School, and is ready for its second season of service. The class is limited to 16 who have completed the junior life-saving course.

Buz Rainer, High School track coach, who was sent by the Red Cross for an intensive course in small craft safety at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, will be in charge. The instruction will begin, and continue for most of the course, with the boat in the High School pool. Later it will be taken to El Estero in Monterey, where the kids will have a chance to sail. Of course, the summer program also offers activities for landlubbers. Look down the list and pick out yours:

POP FLIES TO GRADUATION

Cecil M. (Pop) Smith is back in Carmel after a trip by air to Los Angeles to see his grandson, Ludwig L. Kaftan Jr., graduate from Harvard Military School last Thursday. The young man, six feet, two inches in height, was in charge of a platoon as first lieutenant in the ROTC. "The drilling was thrilling," says Pop. He was also delighted with his granddaughter Linda Lee, "The most attractive sixteen-year-old in Los Angeles." Ludwig Jr. and Linda are the children of Pop's son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Ludwig L. Kaftan.

Pop had fine flights both ways with "nice stewardesses on both trips" but is happy to be back in his penthouse and to be playing golf again.

DR. GRAY REAPPOINTED

Final business of the annual conference of Northern California-Nevada Methodist churches in Stockton last weekend was the assignment of pastors for the coming year. Bishop Donald H. Tippett reappointed Dr. K. Fillmore Gray to continue to serve at the Church of the Wayfarer in Carmel.

EGGSHELL WATER
Makes plants happy

Here's an idea we picked up at a nursery. Drop your egg shells in a quart Mason jar filled with water and in a little while you will have a nice fertilized drink for your potted plants. The nursery where we learned of the scheme gets its egg shells from nearby restaurants and uses the mixture regularly. The lady in the picture is holding her nose because this eggshell water doesn't smell very pretty — but, my! how the plants love it!

Water is an essential ingredient of vegetable, animal and human life and supplying it to communities is an exacting profession requiring technical knowledge, adequate facilities, and sufficient funds to improve and expand. The company which serves you operates the water systems of the cities of the Monterey Peninsula, the cities of San Marino and Rosemead in Los Angeles County, and the cities of Coronado, Chula Vista and National City in San Diego County, and certain unincorporated areas in all districts.

RENEWAL

Crocus, daffodil,
gold-glint weather
decorate wet earth
shined as leather.

Birds in bunches like leaves in a gust twirl through sky
in a graybrown thrust.

Tilted from ground tall diamond kites
shimmer to smallness of colored lights;

And the spirit,
glazed as a dragonfly,
darts from winter
to sheer blue sky.

—GERTRUDE MAY LUTZ.

EXPERIENCE

Late autumn sunrise glorifies the ripening green; deep richness of transformed and stored sun gold — a priceless currency!
Late families of birdlings chirp demands;
the butterfly flits on his careless way,
while new remoteness veils the sky; freshening,
a breeze, in sudden whimsy, lifts the bough,
then, startled, whispers warning.
Still, fragile hummingbirds sip, unconcerned from the sweet lips of summer's lingering, belated bloom. All innocent, fledgling things kind Nature spares the too saddening portent:
but I weep—for I have known beauty dies, and faith; and winter comes, with cold —

—BESSIE BERG.

REMEMBERING

"The day will bring some lovely thing,
I say it over each new dawn,
Some gay, adventurous thing to hold
Against my heart, when it is gone.
And so I rise to go to meet
The day, with wings upon my feet.

I come upon it unawares,
Some sudden beauty without name,
A snatch of song, a breath of pine,
A poem lit with golden flame.
High tangled bird notes, keenly thinned.
The flying color on the wind.

No day has ever failed me quite.
Before the grayest day is done
I find some misty, purple bloom,
Or a late line of crimson sun.
Each night I pause — remembering,
Some gay, adventurous, lovely thing."

—CLARA COLBY.

Carmel School Bonds Interest Cost Is 2.76

The $800,000 bond issue of the Carmel Unified School District was purchased June 9 by an underwriting group headed by Bank of America N.T. & S.A. The group bid a premium of $321 for a combination of 5 percent, 2 percent, 2½ percent and 2 3/4 percent bonds, or an average net interest cost of approximately 2.76 percent to the district. The bonds were reoffered to investors by the Bank of America N.T. & S.A. underwriting group to yield 1.00 percent to 2.85 percent according to maturity June 1, 1959-78, inclusive.

Over $577 million for civic improvement, required by California's rapidly expanding economy, has been supplied by Bank of America account underwritings during the past twelve months. Included in the Bank of America N.T. & S.A. underwriting group, which purchased the $800,000 Carmel Unified School District Bonds are the following associates: Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith; Eastman Dillon, Union Securities & Co.; E. F. Hutton & Company; Stone & Youngberg; C. N. White & Co.

Much Ado About Chain Stores At Study Session

Councilman Gunnar Norberg opened planning commission - city council studies on new chain stores June 10 by remarking that Carmel, in its early beginning, "was founded on a basic idea by a group of persons, all individualists, who stood on street corners and screamed." That Carmel has not changed much in opinion expressing, was evidenced when citizens, crowding the council chamber, told councilmen and commissioners what they thought about chain stores in Carmel.

J. O. Handley thought the term "chain store" should be defined more accurately. Many residents were stockholders in national concerns operating in Carmel. "Whom should the city legislate against, our own people?" he asked.

Walt Pilot said that he came to Carmel "and walked as a barefoot boy along Carmel streets" and he has not found "a small chain store affecting business." However, "the old fashioned people have missed the boat and face competition now from cheap rent and land in outlying commercial developments. Persons shopping in these areas will not leave a cent in Carmel," he added.

Councilman Everett May pointed out the interrelation of motels and chain stores. Chain stores were anxious to take advantage of the opportunity for volume business made available by motels bringing overnight guests to this area. Recreation, centered about liquor store sales, would increase with greater overnight and daily visitors, he feared. Shopping centers in an urbanized county area would create difficulties for local business.

James Rowe, vice president of the Carmel Business Association, spoke for local business people. "They have established small businesses and homes in Carmel because it is a different-looking area and as proprietors feel they can give more here, make a more pleasant atmosphere for all shoppers." He was apprehensive about the advent of chain stores.

"We feel that we want you (commission and council) to look after us (small businesses) as well as the residents," he concluded.

Admiral C. W. Fisher wanted a concise and positive statement from council and commission about new chain stores. He suggested the council write letters to chain stores planning to open here. "The letters should state in unequivocal terms. We don't want you in Carmel."

Mrs. Patricia Hall queried whether any ordinance precludes certain chain stores from Carmel.

"Not under the present business license ordinance," she was told by City Attorney John Morse.

Former mayor and almost founding father Herbert Heron, decried, "chain stores do not contribute anything to the cultural life of Carmel. They do not support the Bach Festival, Music Society, Symphony or theater," he declared. "Chain stores do not help Carmel to be a famous art center."

Bud Clark rose to defend chain stores. "I. Magnin and Co. does not attract beer drinkers," he said, referring to the possible establishment of a Magnin's branch store in the planned Carmel Theatre block development." Don't holler till you're bitten," he added, regretting building plans for the property were not ready to show publicly as yet. He said he wanted, "future development to be the best within the law. Every legal means to make building attractive in Carmel should be employed. If Carmel is attractive it will be filled with desirable people." He thought that existing chain stores in Carmel were not objectionable; they were a part of the village. "An owner developed block such as planned for the theatre site is an asset to old Carmel."

Newell A. Davies said this was confused thinking. Lynn Berwick, representing a dress shop, said I. Magnin had greater merchandising power than local shops. Manufacturers would not consider Carmel shops as they now do if Magnin's were in local competition.

"If firms such as Magnin's are eliminated, what about similar types of businesses now in Carmel?" Walt Pilot asked at this point. "It is not simple to assume that you can categorically tell them to get out," he remarked.

Mayor Chitwood, looking at the clock, told everyone it was a study session, and the council and commission were in no position to make a policy statement about chain stores.

"I have no intention, personally, to abrogate the laws of the United States," he stated to loud applause. "Eight years on the council have taught me a compromise basis is best. I have been successful. We cannot arbitrarily come to quick decisions. Thought-out, not hasty, action is required."

Larry Rose Finds Wonderful Place For A Vacation

City Clerk Lawrence D. Rose returned from his week's vacation Monday. The return consisted in walking from his home on Camino Real and Twelfth Street to his office in city hall.

"People come a thousand miles to have a vacation in Carmel. It would be ridiculous for me to leave it," he explained.

He had a wonderful time, he reports. He spent the mornings working around the house and in the garden, and the afternoons out of doors with his three boys, Chris 13, Penn 11, Wade 8, and his wife Mizzie. There were picnic suppers at Carmel River Beach. "The weather was so wonderful the first part of the week, even at night, that we hated to leave our beach bonfire at 11:00 o'clock." There was a trip to Lobos, and two days, all day, at the sports car races. All the advantages of being a Carmel tourist and none of the disadvantages.

what this billboard couldn't say...
They just don't make billboards big enough to tell all the ways electric dishwashers relieve kitchen drudgery . . . things like—neatness . . . dishwashers keep clutter off counter-tops; keep mess out of sinks. Kitchens stay tidy morning, noon and night.
speed. . . 5 minutes after dinner, there needn't be a dish in sight. '58 models even eliminate the need for scraping.
cleanliness . . . a dishwasher uses water so hot, it actually sanitizes. All the dishes (most pots 'n pans, too) get hospital-clean.
ease . . . just turn a knob and a day's dishes are rinsed (several times), washed (twice) and dried . . . spotless . . . automatically.
There's a dishwasher to fit every kitchen—portable or built-in. Designs are bright, prices right.
now you know why the billboard says, "don't be a dishwasher—BUY ONE!"

Peggy Weaver Wed Saturday

Arrangements of mixed flowers decorated the altar of Carmel Presbyterian Church on Saturday when Peggy Lenore Weaver and Stanley F. Brockhoff were married by Dr. Joseph M. Ewing. White gladioli nosegays, tied with blue ribbons, designated pews set aside for family members. Organ music was played by Fred Lewis and before the ceremony Pamela McFayden sang Because and The Lord's Prayer.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Robert D. Weaver of Nevada. She wore a gown with a long-sleeved, scoop-neckline fitted Chantilly lace bodice from which fell a full ballerina length skirt of alternate panels of the same lace and tulle. A small matching lace tiara, trimmed with seed pearl double hearts, held in place her elbow length veil on which was repeated the same double heart pearl embroidery. A white orchid surrounded by white gladioli and stephanotis formed her spray bouquet.

Susan Nutter, a Carmel High School friend, was the bride's attendant wearing a pale blue tissue taffeta dress with a bow-trimmed bandeau of the same material in her hair. Her bouquet was similar to the bride's except for the orchid center.

Dick Lauer of Belmont, a Rho Lambda Phi fraternity brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were another fraternity brother, John Wentz of Sunnyvale, and Vic Meyer of Brentwood an engineering classmate, all from College of the Pacific from which both the bride and groom graduated on June 8.

Mrs. Lenore R. Weaver attended her daughter's wedding in a blue lace sheath dress with irridescent sequin embroidery, matching hat and gloves, and a cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Peter Pasnik of Van Nuys, the groom's mother, wore a white trimmed navy blue dress with white accessories and orchid corsage.

The reception following the wedding was held at the Carmel Woman's Club. Arrangements of greenery and white gladioli decorated the stage with similar bouquets placed at the opposite end of the room. Lattices trimmed with vines and white gladioli were also used as decorations. One of these formed a backdrop for the table from which was served the flower surrounded cake, flanked by candelbra holding blue tapers. Small tables placed about the room were centered with French bouquets. When the bride and groom cut their cake they were first serenaded by the bride's Alpha Theta Tau sorority sisters and later by the groom's fraternity brothers.

The bride and groom will live in Palo Alto when they return from their wedding trip to Southern California. The groom will be employed as an engineer in San Francisco until fall when he begins graduate studies at Stanford University for a master's degree in engineering. The bride will teach second grade in a Redwood City School.

David Ferguson Married

Mrs. Vada Ferguson is expected back in Carmel this week, after a trip East to attend the marriage of her son David to Katharine Crowninshield on June 4 in the century-old Federated Church of Sherborn, Massachusetts. The reception following the wedding was held at Silverwood Farm, home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Sewall Fessenden. The bride's father is B. Davis Crowninshield of Pompano, Florida. David and his bride honeymooned in Bermuda and will live in Washington, D.C.

The young couple met when David was a student at Harvard University and his bride at Radcliffe College. David graduated from Carmel High School, served in the Army as an officer in Korea, then entered Harvard where he was a member of Spee and Hasty Pudding Clubs. His wife attended Foxcroft School before entering Radcliffe. She is a member of the Boston Junior League, the Chilton Club and Vincent Club.

Dr. Legge Received LL.D.

Last Friday, at University of California commencement exercises, Dr. Robert Thomas Legge, frequent visitor to Carmel and father of Mrs. Fritz T. Wurzmann, received an honorary doctor of laws degree in recognition of his internationally known research in the field of industrial medicine while professor of industrial hygiene at the University. He was also honored as founder of the Cowell Memorial Hospital on the Berkeley campus and for his nationally known pioneer work in the student health field. Dr. Legge, while University physician, organized and directed the present student health program. He is now retired as emeritus professor.

Mrs. Wurzmann, her husband and their two daughters, Renee and Andrea, attended the commencement ceremony honoring Dr. Legge. Also present was Dr. Legge's son, Captain Robert Legge, who is spending a month doing medical research at Treasure Island. He is an orthopedic surgeon currently stationed with the Navy in Panama.

It's Dr. James P. McNeill Now

Mr. and Mrs. James P. McNeill went to Berkeley Friday to see their elder son, Jim, receive his doctor of medicine degree from the University of California. He is immediately beginning his internship at the Southern Pacific Hospital in San Francisco, so he and his wife, Vicki, and two-year-old daughter, Anne, will not be Carmel visitors this summer.

Jim graduated from Carmel High School, then spent two years in the Navy before entering the University of California for the eight years' study, which was completed when he became James P. McNeill, M.D. last week. This fall, Jim's brother, Legare, enters the University of California Medical School. He also is a graduate of Carmel High and served in the Navy for two years.

"He won't be home this summer, either," says Mrs. McNeill, "just too busy!"

On Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ricketts were invited out to dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Studevant. After dinner the Studevants asked the Ricketts home to see movies. The Ricketts accepted the invitation and when they entered the Studevant house found a large group of friends gathered to surprise them with a silver wedding anniversary party. A wishing well filled with silver dollars, one from each guest, was the Ricketts' twenty-fifth wedding anniversary present. Beside the wishing well on the dining table was a wedding cake which was also especially exciting for Mrs. Ricketts, "as I didn't have one when I was married", she reports.

Edy, George Visit Mother

Mrs. Edward Nahas (Edy Stebbins) ended a Carmel visit with her mother, Mrs. M. C. Stebbins, on Wednesday of last week when she returned to Merced and her husband and four children, Elizabeth Ann, Bruce, Robert and Peggy, ranging from four months to kindergarten age. Edy spent her time here resting, according to her mother, and hearing news of classmates at Carmel High School from which she graduated in 1950.

George Stebbins will be home to visit his mother next month. He is coming from Huntsville, Alabama, where he is stationed with the Army, coinciding his visit with the Bach Festival which he has attended since school days here. George graduated from the University of California as a social science major before entering the Army a year ago.

Mrs. Brey's Homeric Voyage

"I have always wanted to see the windswept plains of Troy," says Mrs. Mariquita Brey, Carmel High School instructor of World and English Literature and Ancient History. On Monday she starts on a voyage to explore the paths of Homer's Iliad and Odyssey, "and I'm going to visit each of the five islands which claim him as a native son," she asserts.

Mrs. Brey is also planning a visit to Sappho's Island of Lesbos, spend ten days in Istanbul, and see the Hans Christian Andersen country in Denmark. "I visited Elsinore last time I was there," she reports.

Mrs. Brey's son, Michael McClure, arrives here tomorrow and will drive her to Los Angeles on Monday. She flies from there on June 30 over the polar route to Copenhagen in time to attend the Fourth of July celebration given in Denmark. Athens will be her headquarters for the summer. She returns over the pole again, arriving in Los Angeles at the beginning of September, and after a week there "playing with my grandchild" returns to Carmel.

To California

...a glass of beer is many things

Shasta Dam is a famous sign of California growth. And a famous symbol of California's relaxed, outdoor living is a glass of beer.

But to many Californians, a glass of beer stands for more than cool refreshment. Last year state sales and excise taxes on beer in our state amounted to more than $16 million. This figure is an important element in California's economy.

City Clerk Larry Rose pointed out that new businesses were prevented from opening in Carmel because commercial district land was being "held," presumably for motel development. Further discussion led commissioners to make "a concrete effort to change the zoning law." Commissioner Keeble's suggestion of a letter to the city council recommending reconsideration of the 6-4 amendment to the interim zoning ordinance met with approval. The letter will be formally sent by the commission to the council next Wednesday.

Carmel's forest in many areas will soon be extinct without a planned tree planting program Commissioner Hugh Smith told the commission in a verbal landscaping committee report prepared by him and Mrs. Jessie Mcgregor. To prevent this, during the next five years 450 trees, predominantly pines, must be planted in the city at the rate of 90 a year, 30 of these in the business district, 60 in the residential area, he said.

He presented commissioners with a map of Carmel showing where trees must be planted, suggested the street department keep planting records, and see that all planted trees, which fail to survive, be immediately replaced with live trees.

Trees two feet tall were ideal for the planting program. The city can purchase 100 pine seedlings for $7.00, Commissioner Smith continued, and keep them in five gallon cans for one year until they grow to two feet. They should be planted preferably in the late fall and the estimated one third of the planted trees which will not survive should be replaced. This minimum planting program guarantees forest replacement in 10 years, he declared.

The map showed extensive tree planting was necessary in the business district, feathered out to the residential areas. Ocean Avenue should be reforested on both sides in the commercial area with planting continued up the hill to Carpenter Street. Dolores Street from Ocean to Ninth needs many trees, also San Carlos Street above Ocean and Eighth Street from Junipero to Camino Real. Both sides of Fifth Street must be replanted from Monte Verde to above Junipero. The two blocks bounded by San Carlos on the east, Lincoln on the west, from Ocean Avenue to Eighth Street, must have trees around almost the whole perimeter. Trees should be replaced on lower streets parallelling the beach except for San Antonio and on the slope above Santa Lucia Street from San Antonio to Casanova. Four trees should be planted in front of Sunset school grounds on San Carlos Street and two on Mission. Five should go on Junipero Street, four below Ocean Avenue, one above.

Commissioner Smith reported the street department superintendent estimated he would have to employ another man full time to carry out this program. Commissioner Florence Josselyn thought a member of the street department should be given complete responsibility for the planting and other landscaping on city property.

The map and recommendations will be formally sent to the council by commissioners at their meeting next week.

Previous to discussing motel control and reforestation, planning commissioners gave approval to parking for the six-apartment development planned by Senator Fred Farr on Monte Verde Street, and besides considering plans for the proposed Berney motel at Mission and Fifth, looked at plans for an office on the west side of Junipero Street, below the Little Gem Laundromat, where Mrs. Adeline di Lorenzo plans to open a real estate office in a former single family residence. She was asked by commissioners to eliminate a suggested free-standing glassed display case at the north of the site.

Antonetti's Opens Friday On Dolores St. Near Eighth Avenue

Antonetti's Italian Restaurant, on Dolores near Eighth Avenue, will open tomorrow, serving luncheon and dinner. Peter Antonetti, the owner, plans a formal "grand" opening on July 1, following the completion of extensive alterations on the premises, occupied formerly by two other restaurants, Sam-Patti's and Gene and Parvin's. Antonetti's, however, will commence regular service tomorrow with luncheon at 11:30 a.m. and dinner service until 11:00 o'clock at night. Sunday hours are from noon to 10:00 o'clock at night.
